- Denotes Organic & Wild Crafted Ingredients

NB: We source from small suppliers who provide top notch ingredients. In many cases, the farmers cannot afford the pesticides, fungicides and herbicides, so the products are naturally organic. Large companies who do mass production, ie. most companies supplying skin care products, source from very large suppliers whose ingredients have been refined, bleached and stripped of their beneficial properties so as to guarantee a much longer shelf life. They have to because they are shipping internationally and have to prevent large scale recalls. Their labels may boast "Certified Organic", however, the quality of a refined, bleached ingredient, often cut with cheap ones, such as mineral oil, yield very little in the way of benefits. From our small suppliers, we are providing you with raw materials of much higher quality and this represents a big and beneficial difference to the end user.
